COUNTRY BUMPKIN:
Jazmine Ava plays The Cramphorn live music night in Chelmsford this week.

Ava look at Jazmine

 Live Music
with DON BLANDFORD

SO that was the summer then. Time to move on.

The Cramphorn band night is back after the summer break with a new season of gigs beginning on Saturday night.

Johnny Gunner & The Raiders headline the Chelmsford theatre night with a rocking fusion of blues, rockabilly and jazz.

Jazmine Ava offers blues with a country swing while Navacross complete the line-up with strong song writing and a pop sensibility. More details at myspace.com/thecramphorn.

Before the theatre thrills, Vic Godard and The Subway Sect make a welcome return to Chelmsford at the Two Brewers on Friday.

Support at the Springfield Road pub comes courtesy of Death Of The Elephant, Teen Death Squad (featuring Paul from Ghostwood Shanks) and Redtrack.

Meanwhile over at The Box Club there's an excellent Friday night line-up including Teegan, 8 Shots Fired and Blind Vision.

Still in Chelmsford, Dead Kids and Little Joe Zero gig at Barhouse on Friday.

Cat House headline on Saturday with support from Body Machine.

Head for Colchester on Friday and enjoy ambient dub from the legendary Banco De Gaia at the Arts Centre.

Then on Sunday check out the lovely alt-country of Woodpigeon with fine support from Beatglider.

Staying in Colchester, there's a Kiss tribute from Hotter Than Hell at The Twist on Friday. Ophelia and others play the metal night on Saturday. Battling bands take over The Twist on Monday.

The plug'n'play showcase on Wednesday involves Colchester bands Remorseful and Seas along with Before Silence Falls, Shotgun Riots and Young Guns.

Hardcore metal dominates next Thursday (September 11) with live sets from The Legacy and Gold Kids.

The Gift pay homage to The Jam on Saturday night at Chinnery's in Southend.

In Westcliff, Magic Pie play the classic rock night at The Riga on Friday.

Nicky Moore's Blues Corporation play on Saturday with support from The Joanne Shaw Taylor Band.

The weekend finishes off with the lovely Eileen Rose & The Holy Wreck in Westcliff. Dexter gig The Riga next Thursday.

Harlow has a tribute treat for you too. Who's Who headline at The Square on Friday with support from Splitfire. Saturday night's band is This Town Needs Gun.

Brazilian blues rhythms of Big Gilson & Blues Dynamite sound out of Barleylands in Billericay on Saturday afternoon.

Finally next Thursday the New Crawdaddy Club gig in Crays Hill features the Swamp Cats and The Heaters.
